PURE CATAWBA BRANDY.
THE merit of really pure Brandy, for medicinal use, has long been felt, and the opportunity to procure such an article must be regarded as a public good. LYON'S PURE CATAWBA BRANDY exceeds the choicest imported Brandy in purity and richness of flavor; and, wherever it has been introduced, it has invariably met the most unqualified favor and extensive sale. 23 of the celebrated chemists have analyzed it, and certify to its perfect purity. Dr. A. A. Hays, Dr. Nichols, and Prof. Jackson, of Boston; Dr. Jas. B. Childers, N. Y.; Dr. H. Cox, Cincinnati; and others, North and South. Special attention of Physicians, called to the fact.

MEDICAL REPORT,
containing Thirty-five Plates and Engravings of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Sexual Organs in a state of Health and Disease.
PRICE ONLY TEN CENTS.
Sent free of postage to all parts of the Union.

ON A NEW METHOD of treating Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Stricture, Gleet, Sexual Debility, Impotency, Female Diseases, and all affections of the reproductive system of both sexes, the infirmities of youth and maturity arising from the secret follies of both sexes, with a full treatise on SELF-AID, and FEMALE WEAKNESS, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, pointing out the author's plan of treatment, a rational and successful method of cure, as given by the author, and a full and complete system of the married, and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent to any address in a sealed wrapper on the receipt of TEN CENTS.
Those who have contracted a certain loathsome disease, and especially YOUNG MEN who have injured themselves by certain venereal habits, as well as MIDDLE AGED and OLD MEN troubled with debility and loss of power, before applying to any one for treatment, should first read this invaluable work. DR. DEWEES' FEMALE MONTHLY REGULATOR, a safe and certain remedy for Obstructions, Irregularities, and the only reliable "preventive" of pregnancy, warranted not to injure the health. ATTENTION! It should not be used during pregnancy, as it is an abortifacient, and would be the result, though always harmless. Price $1 per box, and may be sent by mail.
If either may be consulted, either personally or by letter, on all the diseases of which his work treats, and medicines sent to all parts of the country with complete instructions for self-treatment, secured from danger or curiosity.

A specific for Hooping-Cough.
It is known by a few individuals in the counties of Jefferson, Shelby, and Oldham that I have a remedy that effectually cures Hooping-Cough. If there are remedies in America or Europe that cures it, it is not within my knowledge, (except the one I use). Physicians tell the families they attend it can't be cured. I have no doubt they are candid in what they state. To get the medicine in use, and full to sleep a deep-rooted prejudice, the faculty are invited to get the medicine, and save the little innocents whom they attack, and tell them no more it cannot be cured. One dollar will pay for two bottles, which is a sufficiency for one child. This medicine can be conveyed to any part of the United States by express for a mere trifle. Residence Green Cove, between Flood and Preston, south side of No. 459, Louisville, Ky.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1860.

We published in our last issue a letter from Gov. Magoffin to the Governors of the Southern States, submitting, as a basis for the settlement of existing difficulties, six propositions, and seeking a convention of as many of the slave States as may be disposed to listen to propositions for an adjustment, and in the end a convention of all the States of the Union, or as many of them as are disposed to unite in an earnest effort to heal our dissensions.

The spirit which animates our able and patriotic Executive is worthy of all praise. Ardent devotee to the Union and its preservation, he is anxious to leave nothing done on his part which in any degree may tend to allay sectional strife. To this end he has heretofore published a letter which met with a hearty response from all who love their country; and we are quite sure that the letter which he has just written must meet with a similar response.

The propositions which he submits, it cannot be doubted, will meet the approval of every Southern man who is not on the one hand a disunionist per se, or, on the other, one who thinks the South has no just cause of complaint.

To the first proposition submitted by the Governor, in regard to the "personal liberty laws" of the Northern States, there can be no objection in the South, and a conservative Northern sentiment must likewise approve it. It is conceded on all hands, except in some such abolition State as Vermont, that these laws ought to be abrogated. This can be done by an amendment to the Constitution, which would place it beyond the power of one or two Northern States to prevent such a consummation by refusing, as Vermont has done, to repeal its obnoxious laws.

The second proposition, to make the fugitive slave law more effective against the obstructions thrown in its way by Northern mob violence, will be approved by all conservative men. A most effective way to put down such mobs is to make the communities where they exist liable to the owner for the rescue of his slave.

The third proposition, in view of the refusal of the Governor of Ohio, and of other Northern Governors, to surrender fugitives from justice charged with the crime of stealing slaves is just and proper. Some such measure as the Governor suggests ought to be adopted, and the North cannot object to it.

The fourth proposition, to divide the Territories upon a specified line, would put an end to the agitation of the slavery question as it respects the Territories, which has been of late years the fruitful source of all our troubles; and this, being done by an amendment to the Constitution, avoids any objection as to the Constitutional authority of Congress to pass such an enactment. Such a division of the Territories is, moreover, as equitable a settlement as can be devised.

The fifth proposition no one will object to. The free navigation of the Mississippi river is of vital importance to all the States of the great Mississippi valley—a right which none of them would willingly yield—and the denial of which would, in all human probability, disturb the peace of the country.

The sixth and last proposition vitally concerns the South, in view of the fact that the balance of power has passed from the South to the North, and the preponderance of the North in Congress will increase henceforth every year. Some check ought to be provided in the hands of the South against oppressive legislation by Congress, and Gov. Magoffin thinks that this power to protect itself should be given to the South in the Senate of the United States. This could easily be done by giving to the South such a number of Senators as would be sufficient to check any effort on the part of the North to oppress her or outrage Southern rights. It is to the same conservative principle that the small States look for protection against the large ones, and which gives Delaware and Rhode Island as much strength in the Senate as Virginia and New York. This proposition is substantially urged by Hon. Thos. F. Marshall in his recent letter, and ably elaborated.

Upon the whole, we are flattered by the indications which are being given, with the hope that something may yet turn up to restore quiet to a distracted country. We are pleased to see so many public men throughout the Union, in and out of Congress, bringing forward peace measures; and it may yet be in store for us and our posterity that this great Union of States may be perpetual. This certainly should be the wish of every patriot, of every philanthropist.

THE ASYLUM PATIENTS.—The Hopkinsville Press gives assurance of the comfortable condition of the patients of the Lunatic Asylum at that place recently destroyed by fire. The Board of Managers have purchased the large brick building formerly the boarding house of the young ladies of Christian College, situated in the northern portion of town, at a cost of $4,500, and placed all the female patients in it. The Engine-House of the Asylum has been fitted up, and all the male patients put in it. All of them have been removed from the Court-house and Hotels, except one man at the Brooks House, named Aldred, who jumped out of a window in the second story of the Court-house, last Monday, and broke one of his legs in two places. There were thirty patients missing after the conflagration. Six of them have been returned, and the whereabouts of some six others is known.

The following letter to the Governor is from a distinguished Kentuckian who has spent the last eighteen months or two years in the Eastern and Northern States:

MASSACHUSETTS, Dec. 10, 1860.
MY DEAR GOVERNOR: I read your proclamation, upon the refusal of Ohio to surrender a fugitive from justice upon your requisition. It breathes a manly and union-loving spirit; and perhaps was the best thing you could do, in the present state of public opinion in Kentucky. The supine condition of Kentucky alarms me exceedingly. She is asleep, when all around her is crumbling. The secession of the cotton-growing States is, in my judgment, inevitable. How in the name of common prudence can Kentucky remain with the Abolition North under the event of Southern secession? How can she, Virginia, and Maryland, remain tied to an Abolition party, enthroned as it will be then in absolute power, with the consolidated force of eighteen States, and six Territories on the rapid road towards State organization? When these are admitted, there will be an Union composed of three slaveholding States, with twenty-four, who have declared Lincoln's election to be based upon an irrepressible conflict between free and slaveholding States, and the further principle that the domestic institutions of the one or the other must become universal.

Such an Union would leave every branch of the government, executive, legislative, and judicial, in the hands of a party consolidated by these principles, nominally headed by a vulgar rail-roader, trained first in Indiana to this trade, and educated now to be an architect of ruin, a splitter of empires—nominally headed, I say, by Lincoln, but in reality led and to be controlled by Seward, Greeley, Burlingame, Sumner, Wilson, Hale, Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, Fred Douglass, the mulatto, et id omne genus.

This party will hold in the Union of which I speak more than two thirds of both houses, and three fourths of the States. If they have any remaining scruples about the Constitution, they will have the power to change it, and clothe themselves with any authority they please. They are a party of one idea. Its chiefs appeal to a higher law—when did absolute power ever entertain scruples as to its own extent, when it is the only judge of its own limitations? Kentucky will be compelled to take some decisive course of political action. There is no escape for her. Yet she sleeps in dormant strength like Sampson, and when she does awake, I deeply dread that she will find herself in the hands of the Phillips. I presume not, my dear Governor, to advise you. You are on the spot, and whatever may be your own private views, are compelled to watch, and, to a great extent, follow public sentiment. Our people, to do anything useful or efficient, must be united. If public opinion were really awakened to the crisis, it would call on you to convene the Legislature. Excuse the liberty I take, and believe me truly your old friend, school-mate when you were a child, and sincere well wisher.

Letter from Gallatin County.
GALLATIN CO., Dec. 10th, 1860.

DEAR SIR: Your paper of last week contains what appears to be a semi-official invitation to the people of the State to announce their opinions as to the course we ought to pursue in the impending crisis. Many of the citizens of this county think the Union may yet be saved, and that Kentucky should not stand as a mere spectator of a scene in which her most vital interests are involved. We are for the maintenance of the Union, but not for submission to encroachments upon our rights, nor yet do we favor the tardy plan for the preservation of either, indicated by Governor Magoffin in his late patriotic letter.

We want our State to take steps towards meeting her sisters of the South in council. We want a common understanding as to our grievances and the remedies which will secure us against them in the future. We want these grievances to be laid before a convention of all the States, with the demand that the remedies determined upon shall be incorporated in amendments to the federal constitution. We want the latter convention to be clothed with authority to dissolve the Union upon equitable terms, provided no satisfactory adjustment can be made of the points of dispute between us.

We think that nothing short of the steps above mentioned will convince the North that we seriously intend resisting the policy of the Republicans in regard to slavery. A senseless clamor for the Union, though no doubt it is some—perhaps many—instances well meant, has been a fruitful source of mischief. It has encouraged the North to hope for impunity in their aggressive policy, and it now stands in the way of such concessions as might otherwise be made. It has probably, also, led the States of the South to prefer separate action in defense of their rights and their honor, to consultation and co-operation with us. If these views are correct, we owe it to ourselves and to the country, to undeviate both parties by removing all doubts as to our position. This can be done most expeditiously, and will carry with it, to a greater extent, the moral power of the State, by convening the legislature at the earliest practicable moment. If the dangers which threaten us can thereby be averted, financial considerations, even if millions were involved, should not weigh as a feather in the scale against it.

The above views have been briefly written for the purpose of conveying through your paper, to those whom it may interest, the fact that the people of this county desire Kentucky to take some part in giving direction to the events now crowding upon the page of our national history.

A. B. C.

LEXINGTON AND THE SANDY RAILROAD TAX.—The Mount Sterling Whig says: "The Court of Claims of Montgomery county last week refused to levy the tax to pay the interest on our railroad bonds. They concluded to test the question of their validity. Another consideration was the precarious state of affairs between the North and the South. We anxiously await the course of the bondholders, in view of the action of the Court. Whether the Court acted for the best interests of the county, the future must develop. There is much difference of opinion concerning their action. That they acted in good faith for what they believed to be the best interests of the county, we do not doubt."

FUGITIVE SLAVE CAUGHT.—A well dressed negro, with $150 in his pocket, was arrested near Rome, Ind., a few nights ago and taken to the Illinoisville, Ky., jail. He confessed that he was a runaway negro and belonged to a Mr. Bord, of Louisiana.

Democratic Meeting in Clay.

At a meeting of the citizens of Clay county, at the Court-house, on Monday, the 3d of December, 1860, (the being county court,) Daniel Garrard was called to the chair, and David G. Lytle was appointed Secretary.

After which, the following resolutions were read to the meeting by D. G. Lytle, and the vote of the citizens taken upon them by the chair; and they were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the undersigned, are willing to act upon, and maintain, the position of the Governor of Kentucky, Beriah Magoffin, as expressed in his recent letter upon the questions that now attract public attention.

Resolved, That wherever a citizen of the United States presses the soil or sails upon the wave, he owes allegiance to his Government, and is entitled to her protection in all his personal and relative rights.

Resolved, That we are unwilling to submit to a stain being cast upon the fair fame of our State by any respectable civil authority withholding, under any false pretense, the property of any of our citizens, or any disturber of our peace or tranquility.

Resolved, That we are in favor of a preservation of this Union, and a perfect equality of all the States, and of all the citizens of the States.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, the dangerous conflict now before the country is not in consequence of any deficiency in the Constitution or bonds of Union, as given to us by our forefathers, but in consequence of the willful attempt of the Republican party to force their fanaticism over the Supreme court of the United States, founded upon an uncontroverted act of Congress, passed to carry out an admitted and unequivocal provision of the Constitution of the United States; and the country tremulously asks, Shall they prevail? We answer, no!

Resolved, That while truth and justice have an advocate, or a friend, in the human heart, our allegiances will cling to the conservative patriots of the North, who have stood firm as the surge-repelling rock against the waves of Abolition fanaticism; and with allies so true, and the fiat of the Constitution, the judicial arm and Divine justice upon our side, we are willing to await the triumph of the truth; and the true inquiry is, how the Constitution, the Union, and the equality of the States, may all be best preserved, and a destruction of either will inevitably amount to a destruction of all, in the end.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be sent to the Yeoman, Commonwealth, Mountain Democrat, and Richmond Whig, for publication; and that the Louisville Democrat, Journal, and Courier, are requested to copy.

DANIEL GARRARD, Pres't.
DAVID G. LYTLE Sec'y.

HOGS.—The number of hogs which have reached Lynchburg, Va., from the West this season is about 4,000, most of which have sought an Eastern market. But very few have been taken in that city, buyers preferring to await a decline in the article, which is still held at $8 per cwt.

We call the attention of those who want a fine and fashionable article of clothing, to the advertisement of M. B. Swain, Merchant Tailor, No. 4, Masonic Temple, Louisville. He always employs the very best workmen, and cannot fail to give satisfaction to the most fastidious who may call upon him. He has a fine supply of the latest styles of cloths, cassimeres and vestings, for summer wear, and he has also an excellent assortment of Cravats, Shirts, Handkerchiefs, Collars, Ties, &c., &c.

Fever and Ague has ever been the curse of our fair and beautiful south-west. How many a home has been made desolate by the dark cloud that has overshadowed our country like an evil spirit. Is there no hope? No hand to stay the scourge? We answer, there is! Dr. Merwin's Fever and Ague Pills come to you with healing "works of mercy." A like the poisonous mixtures that flood the South, from the northern cities, leaving their baneful effects lurking in the system for years ready like a volcano, without a moment's warning, to burst forth with all its fury upon the poor devoted victim; to take the Angel of Mercy "they come to you bearing health and happiness." They never fail to cure Chills and Fever, also act as a preventive, preserving the health of the strong and robust, and restoring to perfect health the weak and emaciated, giving brightness and vigor to each organ, and adding a rosy bloom to the pale cheek by cleansing and renovating the whole system. You can find these Pills at almost any Drug Store in the Southern States; or by enclosing, in a letter, one dollar and four three cent postage stamps, to Potter & Merwin, St. Louis, Mo., you will receive a letter by return mail. See advertisement in another column.

DECISIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS OF KENTUCKY.

Reported expressly for the Yeoman by CHARLES F. CHADDOCK, Attorney-at-Law, Frankfort, Ky.

Johnson et al. v. McLane Circuit.

Stites, Chief Justice, held: What act of forcible entry and detainer can be issued by a Justice of the Peace, such as was the law under the act of 1810, (1st vol. Digest, 729) and the Civil Code (Sec. 362) prescribes the same mode of procedure in such cases.

A County Judge, though possessing all the powers of a Justice of the Peace in criminal and penal cases, and other powers, is not a Justice of the Peace in the Revised Statutes, (1st vol. Digest, 729), and has no right to issue a warrant of forcible entry and detainer, and such process, when issued by him, together with all steps taken thereunder, is void.

We therefore think that the motion of the appellee to quash the warrant, together with the other proceedings, and to dismiss the case, should have prevailed.

But the judgment of the court below was in favor of the appellee, and the appellant had no right to proceed under a warrant from the county judge, and, in every view of the case to show him to be a Justice of the Peace, and to set aside the judgment of the court below, and to award costs.

We therefore think that the motion of the appellee to quash the warrant, together with the other proceedings, and to dismiss the case, should have prevailed.
